FOREWORD

This is the 2nd Annual report of the BEHALA INTERNATIONAL CENTRE FOR STUDIES IN SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT for the year 2005-06. During the past years the center had organized 25 seminars, talk and discussions. A large number of talk and discussions focused on the West Bengal Area.

This striving humanity as we have assessed, protects and saves our motherland from draught famine, food, natural calamities and other disastrous incidents. By dint of their labour energy and enthusiasm, these people produce food in our agricultural field, manufacture garments, and work in industries as well as in cultivation. They are small and marginal, farmers, share-croppers, landless labour, vegetable, fish and meat vendors, rural artisans and so on who work from dawn to night to maintain their live hood.

They are the main source of strength of our organization. They are our friends, philosophers and guides. And our organization works with them with an expectation to bring a 'Better Tomorrow ' for these down-trodden humanity.

We are proud to bring out this Annual Report on our activities during the year 2004-2005. We want to gather strength and motivation from our well-wishers and patrons.
